

Welcome to the Tenth Annual Hawaii International Conference on Education

Aloha!

We welcome you to the Tenth Annual Hawaii International Conference on Education. Over nearly the last decade, this event has offered a unique opportunity for academics and other professionals from around the globe to share their broad array of knowledge and perspectives. The primary goal of the conference is to provide those with cross-disciplinary interests related to education to meet and interact with others inside and outside their own discipline.

The international aspect of the conference brings a truly diverse variety of viewpoints shaped by different cultures, languages, geography and politics. This diversity is also captured in the Hawaii International Conference's unique cross-disciplinary approach. The resulting interaction energizes research as well as vocation.

With Waikiki Beach, Diamond Head and the vast South Pacific as the backdrop, this venue is an important dimension of this conference. For centuries a stopping place of explorers, Hawaii has historically been enriched by the blend of ideas that have crossed our shores. The Hawaii International Conference on Education continues this tradition in the nurturing spirit of Aloha. Along with its ideal weather and striking beauty, the Hawaiian Islands provide natural elements to inspire learning and dialogue.

The 2011 conference was a great success. We hosted more than 1200 participants representing more than 38 countries. Thank you for joining the 2012 Hawaii International Conference on Education!

The 2013 Hawaii International Conference on Education will be held January 6 – 9, 2013 at the Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort in Honolulu, Hawaii. Please check our website in early February for more details!

Keynote Speaker

Māpuana de Silva, Kumu Hula

Education through the art of traditional hula.....a way of life

A‘o aku, a‘o mai, pela nō e mōhala nei.

Hula has become the most popular dance form throughout the world today. There are literally thousands of hula schools in Japan, Mexico, and Europe to name a few, and probably more schools abroad in many individual countries than in all of Hawai‘i collectively. Why is hula so popular? What makes it so enticing and exciting? What is it that’s “hooking” people worldwide?

Kumu Māpuana will answer these questions and share her approach to education through the teachings of traditional hula in her halau (hula school), Hālau Mōhala ‘Ilima. She will share examples of hula that predate western contact and that have been kept intact for generations, examples of prophecy hula, hula for the gods, hula for our ali‘i (chiefs and chiefesses), hula that reflect western influence, and some newly created hula to bring us into the 21st century.

Through this journey Kumu Māpuana will present her perspective on traditional hula, how she cherishes it and takes care of it, how she shares it, and how she holds her students to a very high standard.

Māpuana de Silva has dedicated her life to the art of traditional hula.

Hula requires commitment and a level of dedication; is not just dance, it becomes a way of life. Halau students learn more than hula; they also learn Hawaiian language, Hawaiian values, genealogy and life skills. The dancers are from all walks of life - teachers, lawyers, nurses, small business owners, police detectives, PhD candidates, CEO's and students from four years old to 75 years of age. These students take the hula knowledge and values into their homes and many walks of life - and become keepers of the culture, living libraries, the first line of defense against the tides that threaten the teachings of our kūpuna (elders).

One measure of the hālau's long-term commitment to the preservation of Hawaiian culture through hula is their record of participation in the major hula festivals of the last three decades. Among the most significant of Māpu's awards are those received from the UH Mānoa College of Education for excellence in Arts Education (1990), from Pacific University for achievements in performing arts education (Outstanding Alumnus, 1999), and from 'Ahahui ‘Ōlelo Hawai‘i for excellence in Hawaiian language education outside the standard classroom setting ("Manu a Ka‘ae," 2000).

Keynote Address

Keynote Speaker

Māpuana de Silva, Kumu Hula

Education through the art of traditional hula.....a way of life A‘o aku, a‘o mai, pela nō e mōhala nei.

Hula has become the most popular dance form throughout the world today. There are literally thousands of hula schools in Japan, Mexico, and Europe to name a few, and probably more schools abroad in many individual countries than in all of Hawai‘i collectively. Why is hula so popular? What makes it so enticing and exciting? What is it that's "hooking" people worldwide?

Kumu Māpuana will answer these questions and share her approach to education through the teachings of traditional hula in her halau (hula school), Hālau Mōhala ‘Ilima. She will share examples of hula that predate western contact and that have been kept intact for generations, examples of prophecy hula, hula for the gods, hula for our ali‘i (chiefs and chiefesses), hula that reflect western influence, and some newly created hula to bring us into the 21st century.

Through this journey Kumu Māpuana will present her perspective on traditional hula, how she cherishes it and takes care of it, how she shares it, and how she holds her students to a very high standard.

Māpuana de Silva has dedicated her life to the art of traditional hula.

Hula requires commitment and a level of dedication; is not just dance, it becomes a way of life. Halau students learn more than hula; they also learn Hawaiian language, Hawaiian values, genealogy and life skills. The dancers are from all walks of life - teachers, lawyers, nurses, small business owners, police detectives, PhD candidates, CEO's and students from four years old to 75 years of age. These students take the hula knowledge and values into their homes and many walks of life - and become keepers of the culture, living libraries, the first line of defense against the tides that threaten the teachings of our kūpuna (elders).

One measure of the hālau's long-term commitment to the preservation of Hawaiian culture through hula is their record of participation in the major hula festivals of the last three decades. Among the most significant of Māpu's awards are those received from the UH Mānoa College of Education for excellence in Arts Education (1990), from Pacific University for achievements in performing arts education (Outstanding Alumnus, 1999), and from 'Ahahui ‘Ōlelo Hawai‘i for excellence in Hawaiian language education outside the standard classroom setting ("Manu a Ka‘ae," 2000).
